Book Building is a process that helps companies discover the price of its security when its shares are being offered for sale in an IPO with the help of investment bankers and is recommended by major stock exchanges and regulators because it is the most efficient mechanism to price securities in the market. How does the Book Building Process Work? When a company has planned to list its shares on the stock exchanges for the first time via IPO, the company management has to decide various things to get its share listed on the stock exchange such as issue size, share price, etc. and to get through...
