Updated with projects from the latest science books, this index is the premier resource for tracking down investigative activities for use in science fairs, classroom presentations, or collaborative lab projects. Organized by subject, it includes ideas for modeling, math applications, social science work, and nutrition resources. Libra...