Notes and Queries is a long-running quarterly scholarly journal that publishes short articles related to “English language and literature, lexicography, history, and scholarly antiquarianism”. Its emphasis is on “the factual rather than the speculative”. The journal has a long history, having been established in 1849 in London; it is now published by Oxford University Press. Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com. This book is a reproduction of an important historical work. Forgotten Books uses state-of-the-art technology to digitally reconstruct the work, preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy. In rare cases, an imperfection in the original, such as a blemish or missing page, may be replicated in our edition. We do, however, repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully; any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve
