
With Empty Hands is an entirely new translation and edition of Conrad de Meester’s brilliant and moving presentation of the life, thought and spirituality of St. Thérèse of Lisieux. The author has completely revised and amplified his previous books on the saint in the light of the new, thoroughly annotated editions of her own works and the many recent works of research and commentary, which have led him to develop and change some of his interpretations of the saint's life and character. Fr.

Back at Les Buissonnets as every year, Thérèse “as was the custom for French children, had left her shoes on the hearth, empty in anticipation of gifts, not from Father Christmas but from the Child Jesus, who was imagined to travel through the air bearing toys and cakes.”[28] While she and Céline were going up the stairs she heard her. This book reveals Thérèse as the saint of hope, whose constant watchword was “My God, I love you!” About the Author. Conrad De Meester, OCD is a Belgian Discalced Carmelite who has made the interpretation and exposition of the life and thought of St. Thérèse of Lisieux his life's work. His other books include Writings and Conversations On The Practice of the Presence of God, La Voie D'Enfance Chez Thérèse de Lisieux and Spreken Met God? Customer Reviews. Reviews by TargetBay. This book reveals Thérèse as the saint of hope, whose constant watchword was “My God, I love you!” This is an entirely new edition and translation of Conrad De Meester's brilliant and moving presentation of the life, thought, and spirituality of St. Thérèse of Lisieux. The author has completely revised and amplified his previous book in the light of the new, thoroughly annotated editions of her own works and the many recent works of research and commentary, which have led him to develop and change some of his interpretations of the saint's life and character. Fr.